Can't seem to find enough time?
Discover that ...

Time is not a factor in your life

Mastering time is not the same as time management. It's not learning to get more out of a limited 24-hour day. Mastering time is realizing that real life does not actually occur within a time framework at all, and time is powerless to limit life.

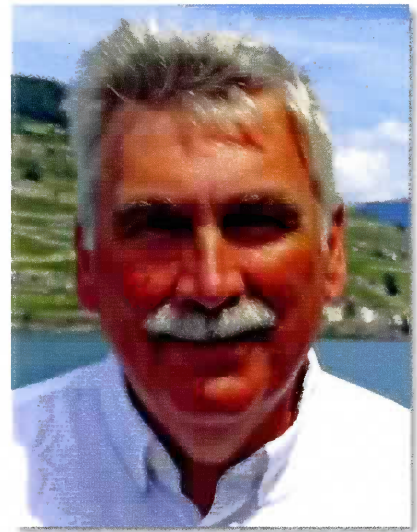

Exercise your God-given freedom from the relentless limits of time including age, aging, stress, inefficiency, frustration, past mistakes and missed opportunities.
