

A New View of God and Its Effect on Well-Being

One man's Journey to finding Health and God as Love

Phillip Hockley is a practitioner of Christian Science healing and international speaker. After sustaining a debilitating injury which was diagnosed as rendering him permanently disabled, Hockley began investigating ways to improve his situation. One day he attended a lecture on Christian Science and found something that was life-transforming. His life improved and he became a healthy man.

"...I had gone to the lecture with no expectations but I left with no limitations!"

- Phillip Hockley

You, your family and friends are invited to a lecture by Phillip in which he will share his personal experience and the perspective that Christian Science opens up, which offers freedom from whatever in our lives seems painful, debilitating, or limiting. The ideas shared will enrich lives regardless of religious affiliation, and help you understand how you can apply the laws of God to your own benefit and that of others.
